BLEEDING AT THE LUNGS.

SEE HOW PROMPTLY IT ACTS!

Statement of Mr. A. Lane, Baker, No. 338 Pearl street.

A few days before last Christmas, I was taken unwell with a hemorrhage of the lungs, bleeding freely at the throat. I called in a physician, but his medicine did me no good. I was then induced to try Dr. Rogers's Syrup of LIVERWORT AND CANCHALAGUA. I believe I had taken up the first bottle, before I found any benefit from it; but after that I got well as usual. My health is now good. I consider it has done me a great deal of good, and recommend it to my friends. This statement is at the request of my friends.

Expedition to Japan.

The plan of the Administration to send a naval expedition to Japan has excited much interest in the country, and attracted the notice of the Press abroad, and called forth a louder tone in the London Times, which is a trifle too laudatory to the enterprise, still looks upon it as partaking of the character of a military expedition designed for conquest, which certainly does not seem either simple or well timed, but rather calculated to defeat the main object of the expedition. To be sure it looks very well in the ardent and "gulf stripping" to have the London Times, the most influential paper in the world, pat Brother Jonathan on the back in his spunk and compliment him with the design of making conquests in Japan. But the Times may have an axe to grind, and it understands very well that it speaks to other ears than those of Jonathan; and the report of the remarks may be found to have so far preceded the arrival of the expedition as to defeat the peaceful and worthy objects of the expedition, by the prejudices which the Times may have excited against it.

Indeed, if the objects of the Administration of our Government were, as the Times intimates, to commence a crusade, an unlawful Filebustering to get a foothold in Japan, they would be unworthy objects and ought to be universally condemned.

But such are not the objects. President Fillmore in his illustrates fully the character of his administration throughout. In the letter which he has prepared to the Emperor of Japan to be forwarded by the Naval Expedition, he thus writes:—

"I send you by this letter, an envoy of my own appointment, an officer of high rank in my country, who is a missionary of religion. He goes by my command to bear to you my greetings and good wishes, and to promote friendship and commerce between the two countries.

You know that the United States of America now extend from sea to sea; that the great countries of Oregon and California are parts of the United States; and that from these countries, which are rich in gold and silver and precious stones, our steamers can reach the shores of your happy land in less than twenty days.

Many of our ships will now pass in every year, and some perhaps in every week between California and China; these ships must pass along the coast of your Empire; storms and winds may cause them to be wrecked on your shores, and we ask and expect from your friendship and your greatness, kindness for our men and protection for our property. We wish that our people may be permitted to trade with your people, but we cannot ask authority from you to break any law of your Empire.

Our object is friendly commercial intercourse, and nothing more. You may have productions which we should be glad to buy, and we have productions which might suit your people.

Your Empire contains a great abundance of coal. This is an article which our steamers, in going from California to China, must use. They would be glad that a harbor in your Empire should be appointed, to which coal might be brought, and where they might always be able to purchase it.

In many other respects, commerce between your Empire and our country would be useful to both. Let us consider well what new interests may arise from these recent events, which have brought our countries so near together; and what purposes of friendly entercourse this ought to give rise to. Our hearts of those who govern both countries.

The propriety of this expedition, and the necessity for it are here clearly stated. The great growth of our Republic on the Pacific coast and the greatly increased intercourse with China and the East Indies render it desirable, however, because they belong to a people who have about themselves an air of haughty reserve, and refused any further intercourse with the world. It is said there is no where greater security of person or property than in Japan. If this be true, there can be no hindrance to their institutions and no small praise due to the people and the Government. For we must remember that the millions of people in Japan are confined within a territory so circumscribed, and consequently so thickly populated that the mountains are cultivated to their very tops, and the smallest piece of soil is turned to some account. They pay special attention to gardening; instead of farming is among more and they undoubtedly excel every other people in the world in the horticultural art.

It is said that the Japanese have brought the cultivation of the plum-tree to such perfection, that it bears blossoms as large as dahlias. The art of dwarfing trees is a favorite one with them, and they are said to have perfectly succeeded in reducing their size so as to correspond with the contracted limits of the gardens attached to their houses. Horticulture is not the only art in which the Japanese excel, in the manufactures they have arrived at a very high degree of perfection; and their porcelain ware for beauty, and their silks for richness of texture and richness of color, are unsurpassed anywhere. In other arts they have made great proficiency, but not in the first, perhaps, that we would see the best development of the natural character—that is, a tendency to expend the energies of the mind upon trifles.

The trade of this country is small, since it produces hardly any thing which enters generally into the world's trade and consumption, and the advantages to trade from opening intercourse with this people would be trifling. The great advantage will result in securing protection to our disabled seamen and in obtaining an authentic acquaintance with the navigation of their seas.

The Kennebec Journal in striving to maintain the point that the Bangor Loan Bill was not defeated by Kennebec influence, remarks that up man is quite so virulent as one who wishes to appear so. The Journal contains, gets its part beautifully. Much better than its neighbor the Hallowell Gazette. There is no occasion for our going over the ground again, as we have since published the report of the committee and other matters enough to convince, probably, even the Journal of the correctness of our conclusions.

We ought, perhaps, to say that we had no intention of giving undue personal credit to individuals on the Kennebec, aside from the influence of the narrow gauge railroad; but with that to crook and crinkle about the State east of the Kennebec, at the pleasure of their imagination, and make it run in front, or in rear of any man's house, just as he should prefer. They could do large business in the way of observing the construction of the broad gauge road to this city.

The Gardiner Bridge case was quite another matter, and in that and similar cases the Augusta influence was not potential, but was reduced to its personal and local narrow gauge.

The Storm.

The Boston Papers speak of the storm of three days continuance as being uncomfortable and accompanied by a heavy gale. On Tuesday a sail was seen to anchor, about one mile from the Light Ship off Minott's Rocks, but no description of her could be obtained.

Two brigs from the West Indies, bound into Portland, were driven a shore on Cape Elizabeth.

A telegram from Newburyport, dated Tuesday evening, says:—The last and most authentic accounts from the Island report the brig Clarion, of and for Boston, with molasses, went on shore at midnight near Emerson's Rocks. The crew landed at daylight, with the exception of one man, who were sick or disabled, and they were soon after rescued by the assistance of Messrs. Lufkin & Small. They are at Mr. Lufkin's house on the Island, and reported to be much exhausted.

The brig was high and dry this morning, but broke open at noon, and the cargo is washing off and badly stoven. Probably but a small portion will be saved. The Franklin of Rockland is reported ashore on Hampden, and gone to pieces. Her cargo was corn and flour, part of which was saved. Two Schooners were seen from the Island this afternoon under sail, endeavoring to make an anchorage, and there is some reason to hope they will succeed in doing so.

The telegraph brings accounts of very disastrous inundations in Western Pennsylvania, as well as numerous marine disasters.

Ward State Committee.—The following gentlemen have been selected by the Whig members of the Legislature, the Whig State Committee: Joseph T. Nye of Saco, Jeddidiah Jewett of Portland, F. W. Farley of Newcastle, G. W. Todd of Bangor, Geo. C. Goodwin of Anson, Sam. P. Benson of Winthrop, Charles Peters of Ellsworth, Noah Smith of Calais, Alfred W. Johnson of Belfast.

A telegram was received here yesterday stating that the Canada Loan Bill had been passed by the Legislature. It was right to pass it but what has become of the all-conquering principle, and what of the Kennebec Journal's representations of the sentiments of the Legislature upon the subject of loans?

Three cattle left the river with a clear navigation on the 21st. Two fine gristmills were also towed up to the city by the steamer Tarratine. The scrapery of the storm, was detained the steamboats. There is a great freshet in the streets and a fair pitch of water in the rivers, with much running ice.

The livery stable of Mr. Wm. Shaw in Newburyport, took fire on Monday night 5th, was damaged $200.

A new vessel in the stream yesterday and two more got a-head decking, but were rescued.

The book mails arrived yesterday afternoon.

An attempt has recently been made to destroy the lives of three young women in the town of Plattsburg, Pa., by putting into their room powder, which, on taking fire, would have exploded the building. The ladies escaped with their lives, but were severely burned.

For the Whig & Courier.

Mr Fish's Eagler.

If my article should be adopted by the Bugler in Wednesday's Whig he would procure some less bungling performer to blow that blast over again. Sensible a goslet can at least have a abler brain. I know not how it happens that so feeble an advocate presumes to appear in behalf of the Mercury. That paper has, on occasion, sufficient mettle and ability to fight its own battles. If its temporary editor, for the present, forgoes the fight, not being a party, besides disgraced, I doubt not that its guard has been taken up by so clumsy a knight as this Six Portable Feeble, whose communication has none of the polish which should belong to so brassy a signature. I intend no criticism on the raw production of malice and ignorance. Its collocation and grammatical construction make terrible havoc of its logic, and, make an intended denial read like an admission. Pray, where do I "sneer" at the statement of a gentleman of this city whose word is a voucher of his truth? That gentleman was my witness. Bah! such a performance is beneath contempt, and I wish you to understand, Mr. Editor, that not for itself alone do I descend to notice it, for unskillful as I am, I scorn so weak a foe. But the passion of the prompter and part, indited calls for some notice, lest he collapse in the smoke of new issues made by him; but not discussed in the article of "I know."

That article was a demonstration of its position that the course of Mr Fish had been neither manly or straightforward. If it had temper it had argument, touching that position, which I defy any man to evade. If this person sees in it temper only, and not argument, there are natural causes for the blindness of his perceptions: for temper is appreciable by the feelings, but argument is only comprehended by the understanding.

This writer avers that "I know" compared the Bangor Loan Bill with the Portland Loan Bill. No such comparison was instituted, and the policy of such loans was not argued. The fact was stated, that Mr. Fish voted for the one and against the other, and therefore that his claim to principle was a sham and a cheat.

Can the citizens of Bangor read the following paragraph from the communication of this

Low unrisible cutlery sneaking hind and not spurn from them so mean a slanderer.

"The Bangor Loan gets abandoned, for plunging the city in debt four hundred thousand dollars, before a blow has been struck, or a dollar subscribed, thus creating a necessity which does not exist, and it may be, for the very purpose of taking the advantage of this necessity by asking for more."

This assertion disgraced him as a man more than his communication does as a writer. The latter may be pardoned to his general ignorance, but the former is a deliberate charge against the integrity of those gentlemen who so carefully prepared this bill and so cautiously and cautiously provided against any such contingency, as is now charged as a purpose of its framers and supporters. It is an insult to every man who was active in the support of that bill, and could only come from a mind used to such sinuosities of purpose, and habitually trafficking in integrity. No man can read that bill and not see that, under it, such a purpose is impossible of execution. This man, Hippolyte charity, has not read it. If he has, either his ignorance is more profound, or his malice is most inventive.

Of matters simply personal to myself I take no notice. I am not of sufficient mark to intrude, for myself, before the public. Whatever my manners or my morals may be, it is evident they cannot be improved in the school in which he was taught, nor can I afford to take lessons of him, although he has since dealt in virtue, and in his traffic, has bought and sold half the representative integrity of the State.

I am threatened with some dreadful retribution when certain parties pluck up courage to return home. I am ready for any onset, and have some arrows left for any game that may be afoot, be it a water rat or a land rat.

I KNOW.

For the Whig and Courier.

Your correspondent who spoke in the Bugle, in his pugilistic spirit "I know," has seen fit to deal a blow at the Bangor Loan Bill, intimating that it "candidly" intended to plunge the city in forty-stock double the sum of $400,000 contemplated by that bill. This charge has nothing to support it but Bugle's own wind. Whenever "Bugle," or any of his associates who have so feloniously distinguished themselves by defending the measure, shall undertake to make good this charge, by any respectable exhibition of facts, or any decent attempt at argument, they shall hear from

ONE OF THE COMMITTEE.

CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, April 19.

In the Senate—Messrs. Sumner, Underwood and Smith, presented petitions in favor of granting Government aid to the Collins line of steamers.

Mr. Brodhead presented one from printers of Philadelphia in favor of Government printing office.

Mr. Shields presented one relating to the Wheeling Bridge.

Mr. Hunter, joint resolutions of the Legislature of Virginia, for an appropriation by Congress of scrip to satisfy outstanding revolutionary bounty land warrants.

Mr. Underwood a memorial of certain creditors of Texas, complaining of the action of Texas with regard to her debts.

Mr. Shields reported a bill to annul the charter of Washington city, by removing certain restrictions to the right of suffrage.

Mr. Gwin introduced a bill for a monthly mail from San Francisco via Sandwich Islands to Shanghai.

Mr. Badger introduced a bill for preventing the public execution of criminals within the District of Columbia. Ordered to be engrossed for a third reading.

The French spoliation bill was then taken up. Messrs. Rusk and Soule of Indiana, who were opposed to the bill, said they had paired off, the former with Mr. Brooke in favor of the bill and paired off with Mr. Walker.

Mr. Morgan said he would vote for the bill under instructions. The bill passed by yeas 29, nays 11.

Yeas—Messrs. Badger, Bayard, Bradbury, Clark, Cooper, Davis, Dawson, Dodge of Iowa, Geyer, Hale, Hamlin, Jones, Minnesota, Miller, Pearce, Sebastian, Seward, Shields, Smith, Spruance, Sumner, Underwood, Upham, and Wade.

Nays—Messrs. Adams, Atchison, Borland, Case, Bright of Wisconsin, Dodge of Iowa, Douglas, Fish, Gwin, Hunter, King, Morris and Walker.

The deficiency bill was then taken up and debated by Messrs. Gwin and Hunter, when the Senate went into executive business and shortly after adjourned.

In the House—Mr. Bayly's motion to reconsider the vote recommitting, with instructions to reconsider the report on printing, came up this morning. Mr. Venable moved to lay on the table—negatived—the House then reconsidered the vote—yeas 84, nays 74, thus opening the whole subject again. It was moved to lay on the table—negatived—yeas 74, nays 90.

The question was taken on the resolution recommitting the report to the Committee on Printing, with instructions to report on the whole subject, and recommend for the adoption of Congress such a system for the execution of the public printing as they may deem most expedient, and that they especially take into consideration a plan for the establishment of a printing bureau, under the supervision of a Government officer.

Mr. Gorman raised a point of order, that the House could not instruct a committee acting and created under law, and appointed jointly by the two branches. This, with several other points, was sustained by the House.

The above resolution was then negatived—yeas, 75; nays 82. This complexity reversed the action of Friday.

Mr. Venable offered a resolution that the Committee on Printing be requested to contract with the lowest responsible bidder, after ten days notice, for such work as the present contractor has failed, or may, fail to execute according to his contract.

He defended himself from the charge of having coalesced with the Freesoil party, and spoke of the corruptions which existed in the two parties.

Mr. Gorman moved to amend Mr. Venable's resolution, simply to refer the report to the Committee on public printing, which was agreed to—yeas 88, nays 79. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Marshall of Kentucky offered a resolution for the appointment of a select committee of five, to whom shall be referred existing laws on the subject of the public printing, and that they report a bill or bills revising what amendments may be expedient, for the necessary and prompt execution of the public printing. The house agreed to consider the suspension of the rules for the purpose of introducing the resolution.

Maine Legislature.

AUGUSTA, April 22.

In the House.—Mr. Hanson, of the Committee on Claims, reported, report [illegible] the next Legislature, on certain petitions for compensation for losses sustained by the burning of the Insane Hospital. Accepted.

An order to incorporate the Aroostook Dam and Rutlood Co. came from the Senate amended. The House adopted the amendment, and the same passed to be engrossed in concurrence.

Mr. Holmes called up a bill creating a Board of Agriculture, and on his motion the bill passed to be engrossed.

Mr. Chapman of Biddeford called up the bill relating to the publishing of the intentions of marriage.

Mr. C. made an amusing speech in favor of the passage of the bill—dealing with great feeling the delicate embarrassment of those persons who were required by the strict obligations of the law to have their names exposed to the public gaze in the publishing box, three successive Sabaths, or at their ears could not stand this, obliging them to flee to the neighboring States, or to her Majesty's provinces, for relief. The bill was reported by a Select Committee, who were deeply interested in its passage.—They were unanimously agreed that the wants of the immediate parties, pecuniarily and the prosperity of all posterity, were deeply, fatally connected with the passage of the bill, and no apprehension that the bill would pass.

Several amusing amendments were proposed debated and voted down or withdrawn. After some further pleasant remarks from Mr Sanborn and others, the yeas and nays were ordered and the bill was retained to passage, 76 to 64.

In the Senate.—Mr. Bell called up the report of the Committee on the State Prison, with the accompanying bill. Mr. B. proceeded to explain the bill, and offered several amendments, one of which fixed the compensation of the inspectors at $2 a day, and ten cents a mile traveled, and another postponed the time, for the bill to take effect till Dec. 31, 1852.

Mr. Christon preferred referring to the next Legislature.

Mr. Bell further explained and advocated the bill, and was followed by Mr Lancaster on the same side.

Mr. Leavitt opposed the bill as giving too much power to the Inspectors, and offered an amendment.

Mr. Bloomb spoke in favor of leaving the matter in the hands of the governor and Council.

Mr. Boynton withdrew his motion, and moved to refer to the next Legislature. He said this Legislature had already been in power nearly two years, and has held two sessions, and they have assumed power enough without passing acts not to take effect until next January.

The motion to refer to the next Legislature, prevailed.

In the House.—Resolve for the repair of the State Road from Fort Kent to the boundary line of the State, came up for a second reading.

Mr. Piper moved a reference to the next legislature. Mr. Tabor opposed the motion, and advocated the necessity of making the appropriation.

Mr. Piper withdrew his motion. Mr. Holmes moved to amend the resolve by declaring the expenditure shall be made by Francis Thibodeux. Mr Tabor opposed the motion. He thought the matter should be left to the Land Agent. The French population he thought were not acquainted with road-making. He thought the interests of the settlers would be benefited by having the resolve as it was reported.

Mr. Holmes advocated his motion. The French population on the other side of the river had made the most excellent road, and were perfectly competent to expend his money. He was satisfied from his knowledge of the people and the person who was proposed to act as agent that the money would be prudently expended.

Mr. Sanborn advocated the motion. If, as had been stated, these French men had not been acquainted with road-making, it was time they were taught. They were citizens of the State and should not be shut out by a spirit of exclusiveness. He understood that the person who had been named as the resolve, Mr Thibodeux, was a very competent person to expend this money. He had been a member of the Legislature, and was considered a very active, intelligent business man. He thought there was great propriety in putting the expenditure of the money in his hands.

The debate was further continued by Messrs. Gilman, Carter and Noyes in favor, Mr Talbot against.

Mr. Tabor said that he would withdraw so far as he was concerned, all opposition to the amendment. The amendment was then adopted.

Mr. Smith advocated the passage of the resolve after which it passed to be engrossed.

Others amendments were proposed, but rejected by a party vote. The yeas and nays were ordered, and the resolve were passed to be engrossed.

BALTIMORE, April 19. The Baltimore Whig City Convention met to-night. The first business was a motion to discharge the committee appointed to wait on the President and demand the removal of Collector Kane, which was, after a debate, adopted. A series of resolutions were proposed pledging the support of the Whigs of Baltimore to the Whig nominee for President, but recommending instructing terms the nomination of Gen. Scott as a Southern man and friend of the Compromise measures. The resolutions were received with mingled applause and disapprobation.

NEW YORK, April 20. The steamship Georgia, Capt. Porter, from New Orleans, 15th, via Havana 16th, arrived at New York this afternoon. She brings 180 passengers, and the California mails to the 10th March.

The Barnstable Patriot speaks of an ancient bottle recently excavated from a hill in Provincetown, November last. It was found fifteen feet below the surface of the earth. It is of round shape, of a kind of glass not found in these days, and like the letter N on one side and the letter H on the other, neatly cut. That paper says:

We might fairly infer, it might have been the very bottle taken with the little band that first set out to explore the wilderness into which they had been led by Providence. Inquiry soon not far from the spot where the Mayflower was then lying at anchor, and where the pattern ship shore would have probably chosen, if he were at right in our conjecture, what a volume of association does not the appearance of this little relic suggest. How eloquent would it be to evenings, if its mouth could find the utterance of speech!

SPARKS, THE HISTORIAN. The Spiritual Republican, referring to the [illegible] recently published on this distinguished historian, who has recently been made in this country and in Europe, pointedly says:

"Every American, who takes upon the literature of the country as a treasure to be cherished, will rejoice at the course and thorough-ness, with which Mr. Sparks has overthrown the assailants of his fame. The Life and Writings of Washington, Franklin, and of Gouverneur Morris, fourteen volumes 8vo; and the Library of American Biography, comprises in 25 volumes also, by all of which we are indebted to the energetic and preserving researches of Mr. Sparks, are a contribution to our literary resources, for which every true-hearted American will be grateful indeed. The style of Mr. Sparks, as a writer, is pure, vigorous and classical. He expresses his thoughts with great clearness and precision. He has none of that tawdriness and verbosity, which are the bane of a few of the productions of our countrymen; he has the strength of simplicity, not the feebleness of affectation. When such a work is published, such literature will be in demand."

Last Saturday, the 21 inst., as the express train from Montreal was running with great speed, to make up lost time, between St. Johns and Rouse's Point the engineman discover a woman standing in the centre of the track, frantically swinging a basket evidently with the intention of stopping the train. The whistle was immediately sounded for "brakes hard," and with great exertion the train was brought to rest a few feet from the woman who never stirred from the track or raised the slightest fear.

The engine-man, firemen, breakman and Superintendent, (who happened to be on the train) ran up to the woman to find out what horrible accident had happened ahead, to call forth such a strong demonstration on her part. Each asked eagerly the cause for signals. Lord-ful sakes, I never saw one on of my machines before in my life, and I do declare it's the funniest thing I ever [illegible] Burlington Free Press.

Drowned—In this city, April 12th, Benjamin Plummer, aged 78 years. While on the wharf at South wyer gathering around him he said—"My work is done—I am going home"—and soon he was at rest.

Go to thy rest, aged pilgrim,
Go to thy heavenly home;
Go to thy rest, weary pilgrim,
Thy work on earth is done.

Go to thy rest, aged mother,
Leave all thy children below;
Go to thy home so fair and bright,
Thy Saviour calls thee, go.

Go to thy rest, aged parent,
Go leave thy friends below;
Long hast thou labored here on earth,
Go to thy home, go.

Go to thy rest, aged pilgrim,
Go meet thy friends above,
Kindred and friends have gone before,
Go join the saints above.

Go to thy rest, aged pilgrim,
Where pleasures never die;
Soon we hope to meet thee,
To live, beyond the sky.

Now dear sir, we have a pilgrim,
For thee we will not mourn;
Through faith in Christ thou hast gained thy rest,
For thee, we will not mourn.

NEW ENGLAND MUTUAL
FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY,

Incorporated by the Legislature of New Hampshire, December, 1844.

OFFICE, Long's Block, Concord, N. H.

Seth Eastman, Esq., President.

DIRECTORS:

SETH EASTMAN, WILLIAM FRESCOTT, JOSEPH LOW, JOHN P. JOHNSON, ABRAM J. PRESCOTT, AMOS HADLEY, Secretary, JOHN WHIPPLE, Treasurer.

THIS Company has been in operation nearly seven years, and has now at risk about $2,000,000, with a Capital Stock of $200,000. The rates of insurance have been modified as to range from one to fifteen per cent, thus affording all the advantages, with those of the liberal plans, of classified Companies. Owing to the equitable adjustment of its Facts and Rates, the Company holds out the strongest inducements to those who wish a cheap insurance on Farms and Mercantile risks. The Directors have determined to continue an extensive insurance of the extra hazardous class of property. We can say, therefore, with the most confidence, that no Company in the country is stronger or safer than this. Applications for insurance, on all kinds of property, will early be made to the Secretary, or through an authorized Agent, which will be taken at the lowest safe rate for that class of property, and on such terms of time not exceeding five years.

Great American Remedy.

FOR COLDS, COUGHS, ASTHMA, CROUP AND CONSUMPTION.

WHY, I enable, do you about inevitably overlook the very best, remedy for your cough, plaint, or search, of something with a foreign or mysterious circumstance about it. Half of these are made by quacks or persons having no more than the mere title and practical knowledge—either of mind, nights, or of the human system, of the author of their more medicine. For dry, hard coughs, and the children with severe hooping cough, or with croup, it is invaluable, and challenges a trial. Made with pure Indian, Egyptian, Arabian, English, French, German or any other drugs or Domestic preparation, which is now offered to the public for sale, in all the cases for which it is recommended. It was used by Capt Manly Hardy, to advantage for many years, with great success. More than twenty thousand have tried it, and all commend it, then why not further?

BANGOR, June 8, 1850.

THIS certifies that I have been occasion'y afflicted with sore and inflamed eyes and hardly find several bills of Eye Water with, at any time, the desired effects was induced to try a bottle of YANKEE EYE WATER, which scarcely covered and also cured five or six other persons of like was about a year ago. Last fall I procured another bottle, and attended it into the woods, with a crew of Lumbermen. Every one of the men in their employ were troubled with sore Eyes! All were cured that used it; and I would advise every person who may be going into Rheumatic and Liver Diseases, to carry this article with them. I will refer to Mr. Watson Brooks, of Bangor, as I have used in his employ. This certificate is entirely voluntary, as I gave it for the use of the Agent.
